

Grateful for scholarship

Wednesday, 18 April 2007

Dear Editor:

I was a member of the 2006 Cambridge-Isanti graduating class. The Cambridge-Isanti Dollars for Scholars organization has been pertinent to my continued education beyond high school. I am currently attending Brown University in Providence, R.I., and DFS has helped make this possible.

I received the Ryan Cunningham Memorial scholarship from DFS, which not only aided me financially, but also was significant because I attended the same church as Ryan Cunningham. His family is part of my church community, and it meant a lot to be presented with the scholarship by Ryan's parents: Pat and Marcia Cunningham.

DFS did an excellent job of matching up scholarships with their recipients, and I am extremely grateful to them. With the aid of DFS I have been able to attend an excellent university and embark on a wide array of new experiences and opportunities.
