Cambridge-Isanti residents support our graduates

To the Editor:

Residents of the Cambridge-Isanti School District are to be commended for making the Phonathon a big success. The Cambridge-Isanti Dollars for Scholars Foundation held the 15th annual Dollars for Scholars' Phonathon April 6 and April 7. Around 40 student callers got pledges totaling $22,390, which is just a little shy of last year's amount.

A number of persons called and said they couldn't donate this year, mostly because of job losses, however, other donors said, "we can do a little more" because they were aware that others could not give this year. What a generous spirit.

We very much appreciate the student callers and other volunteers who help with the Phonathon, but want to give special thanks to Denise Clark and Heidi Fosse for leading the Phonathon effort. If you were not called and would like to donate, you can send a check or pledge addressed to Dollars for Scholars to Cambridge-Isanti high school.
